CATALOGUE ESSAY

In 2013, Richard Mille released one of their most exclusive designs, a 6-piece limited edition of the RM52-01. The Red Skull RM52-01 is the descendant of the equally rare RM052. The RM052-01 case is tonneau shaped with a surface dimension of 50 x 42mm and 16.15mm thick and has a rose gold case band with a scratch-resistant TZP ceramic bezel and case back. The dial features a hand sculpted skeletonized skull made of grade 5 titanium and has the upper and lower jaw holding the ruby of the tourbillon cage. The dial and case are assembled using an average of 20 spline screws in grade 5 titanium and abrasion-resistant washers in 316L stainless steel. Due to the openings in the bezel and the case back this Richard Mille RM52-01 is much lighter and help it create its unique skull design. This limited-edition timepiece is powered by the manually wound RM052 caliber with tour a power reserve of 48 hours. The case is paired with a white rubber bracelet with a titanium and rose gold double fold over clasp. It has a water resistance of 50 meters (164 feet).
