CATALOGUE ESSAY

Named after the compact and quick Shelby Cobra race car powered by a Ford V8, the Baume & Mercier (B&M) Capeland Shelby Cobra 1963 . Now four limited edition variants have joined the line-up, each named after a racing champion who drove for Carroll Shelby, the American designer of the Shelby Cobra (which was made by British automaker AC Motors). The four racing drivers immortalised on the watches are Dan Gurney, Allen Grant, Ken Miles and Dave MacDonald. Each watch is emblazoned with the racing number of each driver in the nine o'clock sub-dial: "15" for Gurney, "50" for Miles, "96" for Grant, and "97" for MacDonald.
